27. On information and belief, Defendant Xingxing offers original equipment manufacturing (“OEM”) and/or private labeling services, whereby it manufactures and sells refrigeration and related products bearing the trademarks of its U.S. distributor-customers.

28. On information and belief, Defendant AdCraft is one such U.S. distributor-customer of Defendant Xingxing, among several other distributor-customers in the United States.

29. On information and belief, Defendant AdCraft is the exclusive distributor in the United States of Defendant Xingxing’s U-STAR line of refrigeration products.

30. On information and belief, Defendant Xingxing’s total annual sales volume is between US$50 Million and US$100 Million, and over 80% of its sales are made in North America.

31. On information and belief, Defendant Xingxing sells and distributes its products throughout the United States, including in the State of New York and in this judicial district, to and/or through its U.S. distributor-customers, including Defendant AdCraft.

32. Without authority from True, Defendant Xingxing obtained copies of each of the True Photographs, made minor edits to some of them, and copied, distributed, and publicly displayed the photographs in the advertising, offer for sale, and sale of its products to U.S. distributor-customers in violation of True’s exclusive rights.

33. In particular, Defendant Xingxing altered some of the True Photographs to remove the TRUE® Marks from the authentic TRUE® products pictured in the True Photographs.

34. In addition, Defendant Xingxing altered some of the True Photographs to change the appearance of the TRUE® products, including without limitation modifying True's trade dress recessed handles and grille designs, on information and belief, in an effort to conceal Defendant's wrongdoing.

36. Defendant Xingxing left many of the True Photographs unchanged, and the TRUE® Marks and True's trade dress are clearly visible in some of the photographs.

37. Defendant Xingxing used and continues to use altered and unaltered True Photographs (collectively, "Infringing Photographs") in the advertising, offer for sale, and sale of its products to U.S. distributor-customers, misrepresenting the nature and/or source of Defendant Xingxing's goods, and in direct competition with True's authentic TRUE® products.

38. On information and belief, Defendant Xingxing distributed the Infringing Photographs to its actual and potential U.S. distributor-customers for use in their respective advertising, offer for sale, and sale of Defendant Xingxing's products to U.S. resellers and consumers, misrepresenting the nature and/or source of Defendant Xingxing's and/or its U.S. distributor-customers' goods, and in direct competition with True's authentic TRUE® products.
